Art Unit: 3723

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 and 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Weisman.

Note, column 4, line 31, wherein the urging member may be in the form of a ring.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-5, 11-15, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weisman in view of Brown.

Weisman discloses all of the claimed subject matter except for having a magnetic ring and the urging member being movably mounted on a retaining ring. Brown discloses a magnetic ring and the urging member being movably mounted on a retaining ring. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the device of Weisman with a magnet to hold the workpiece in place as taught by Brown and to form the device of Weisman with a retaining ring to prevent the urging member from falling out of the socket as taught by Brown.

5. Claims 1-3 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Michel in view of Weisman.

Art Unit: 3723

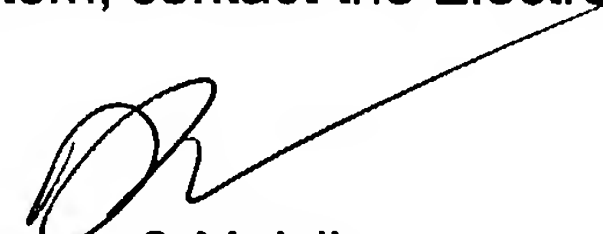

Michel discloses all of the claimed subject matter except for having a "magnetic" socket. Weisman discloses a "magnetic" socket. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the socket of Michel as magnetic to hold the workpiece in place as taught by Weisman.

6. Claim 16 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
